The Walk

The well-named park leads to Coyote Creek and a tranquil, wooded walk on an asphalt recreation trail. The curves and two short hills give variety as walkers head toward Cottonwood Lake in Hellyer Park.

The 10k route includes an equestrian staging area at the south end and San Jose's Velodrome at the North. At one time, San Jose was considered the "Bicycle Capital of the United States" and a training facility for cyclists competing in the 1962 Pan American Games.

Coyotes are active here so stay alert, carry a whistle or noise-maker and a walking stick. Restrooms are at the south end, Cottonwood Lake and the Velodrome.

- Distance is 10K (5K option)
- Difficulty is 1A
- Restrooms available

Special Programs: Mayflower 400th Anniversary for the Tamien and Matalan tribes of the Ohlone nation that inhabited the creek area; S for Walk USA A-Z (national) and Walking with Woody (CA).
