Note: For this walk, it will be helpful to navigate by tracking your distance in mi. (miles)

1) Facing the lake with your back to the Shelter the path starts to the right at the end of the parking lot down by the fishing pier. The path goes up hill through a hillside prairie for .44 mi.

2) There's another trail (fire lane) to the right at that point, but continue straight.

3) Walk along the top of the hill until the trail you are on T's into another trail at .7 mi. At this point turn right.

4) The trail goes down a long hill and crosses a bridge over Sugar Creek.

5) A short distance from that bridge at 1.2 mi there is a path that goes off to the left but continue straight.

6) Note, A confusing intersection: @1.3 mi there is a trail that goes to the left but continue straight 30 or 40 feet and then there is another trail coming from the right, but continue straight for .1 mi.

7) Turnaround point: Another confusing intersection. @1.4 mi turn right toward Sugar Creek. In a very short distance (50 ft or so) a trail will come in from the left, continue right, through the woods going along Sugar Creek looping back to 6).

8) At this point you rejoin the trail that you came out on. Curving to the left passing 5) on the right, crossing over the Sugar Creek bridge, and back up the big long hill.
